Auditorium to Be Transformed into Viennese Garden—Tableaux and Dance Program—Latter to Be Presented By Pupils of Miss Dorothy Tudury.

The auditorium of St. Joseph Academy is fast being transformed into a beautiful Viennese garden thru the art and decorations of Chairman Alton Erwin and several assistants who are working every night and part of each day in preparation for Bay St. Louis' annual Carnival Ball which will be held there on next Friday evening, February 21, and which promises to be one of the most elaborate and beautifully staged balls and tableaux yet presented to the public.

A court of twenty maids and dukes, composed of the city's fairest maids and younger matrons and handiwork, will precede the entry of their majesties, the King and Queen, who this year will be one of Bay St. Louis' lovely young matrons and a well known and stately gentleman. No expense is being spared by either to stage one of the most lavish courts we have ever witnessed and everyone is keenly interested in knowing just who their majesties will be—but we must wait until the zero hour and cannot reveal their identities.

On the stage and in the tableaux, pretty young maidens in becoming costumes will await their majesties and a dance program of grace and beauty will be given for their entertainment by the pupils of Miss Dorothy Tudury with several beautiful numbers and in costumes which are in keeping with the theme and of intriguing styles. For the dance numbers, special music will be played by members of the Ensemble Chantant, composed of three violins and piano accompaniment and whose music is a well known and looked forward to whenever they play. Special lighting and beautiful costuming and an entire change in the manner of entry into the auditorium all promise a beautiful ball and everyone is urged not to miss the Carnival Ball of 1941.

SCOUT WEEK OBSERVED

This Week in Bay St. Louis;
Annual Drive for Funds
Being Conducted.

This week being Scout Week, it is fitting that the annual drive for funds for the scout movement is being conducted. Committees are active success seems assured.

Friday, February 7, the regular monthly meeting of the executive committee was held at Manier's Cafe with Father A. J. Gmelch, district chairman, presiding and Mr. Steve Kenney, field representative of the New Orleans Area present.

Those attending the meeting were: Father A. J. Gmelch, Steve Kenney, Father J. Holken, Forster Commager, J. T. McCaleb, Carl Arnold, Fred Fayard, Sr., Robert Camors, H. Grady Perkins, Wm. Stachle, Alden Mautray, Henry W. Osinich, Arthur Scadio, L. S. Elliott and Ad. Lang of Pass Christian.

Business matters were disposed of. It was decided that a Court of Awards will be held every four months and a survey was taken of all boys eligible for scouting in all schools. Of special interest was announcement of the forming of a Negro boy scout troop for Bay St. Louis under leadership of Father Holken.

A week has been set aside to commemorate the origin of the world's greatest youth organization, the Boy Scouts. Enrolled in this great character training and self-reliance group is an average more than 10 out of every 30 boys in the United States.

In normal conditions and in time of emergency, the Boy Scouts have shown themselves to be a body not only capable of taking care of themselves, but also able to give aid to all those who are in need of it.

All scouts are held under the same Scout Oath and laws. They all give the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag. Embodying all the truths and rights of American citizens, the boy scouts are trained to do their duty to God, to country, to their fellowmen and lastly to themselves.

Today's greatest problem is the training of youth. Foremost in this character training and citizenship training is the Boy Scout Organization. From cubbing to sea scouting, the wide scope of scouting has been planned to meet the needs of boys from the age of six until they enter college.

During this week, Scout Week America should wake up and appreciate what it has. Its youth is not being taken away and thrown into concentration camps, but rather it is being trained in the ways and means to protect its precious liberty. We congratulate the Boy Scouts and their great organization.

ALONG BAY ST. LOUIS GARDEN PATHS.

Just four more weeks before Garden Week, March 16-23. Have you Mr. and Mrs. Citizen started cleaning up and planting for this timely occasion? If not, start today. Help make our city the most beautiful and well kept community along the Gulf Coast.

Mr. Jessie Gray was noticed busily trimming the shrubs around his filling station last week. This place of business is always well kept, and attractive with flowers, as are most of the filling stations in the Bay.

The colorful tulips in the Lucien M. Cox garden are a reminder that Spring will soon be here. All winter the pretty winter grass in the Cox garden has made a green velvet carpet for the giant oaks and other shade trees. Always popular with the children of the neighborhood, this garden lends itself beautifully to play.

The grounds of the Episcopal Church are looking very trim and neat with the young grass and newly planted shrubbery.

The stock around town will soon be blooming, judging from the looks of the healthy plants in various flower beds.

Some unusually fine young sweet pea vines on a neatly arranged trellis were noticed in the Frank Cassidy garden in Breath's Lane.

Remember, Garden Week is just four weeks away. Get busy and clean up, paint up, and dress up for March 16-23rd and the Spring of 1941.

WOMAN, 32, LOSES LIFE IN AUTO

Mrs. Billie Schroeder of New Orleans—Body Shipped
For Interment.

Highway 90, the scene of so many tragic and disastrous accidents, on Monday afternoon claimed another victim in the death of Mrs. Billie Schroeder, thirty-two year old matron, who while riding with two companions in a shiny new Packard sedan, in some undetermined manner lost control of the automobile which ran off the Highway and turned over several times, spilling its occupants and causing Mrs. Schroeder to be instantly killed.

The body of the young woman was brought to Bay St. Louis and taken in charge by the Fahey Undertaking Company, who upon later advice, prepared it for burial and shipped it on Louisville & Nashville Railroad train No. 4 on Tuesday morning of Jacksonville, Florida, where relatives claimed it.

Mrs. Schroeder was the mother of a sixteen year old son, Russell Miller, and resided at 8103 Bundandy street, New Orleans.

The party had stopped off in Ford Tavern and had returned to their car and were riding in the direction of Bay St. Louis when the accident occurred.

A truck of the W. A. McDonald & Sons Company was completely destroyed when it overturned and its entire contents burned after going off the road on Tuesday on Highway 90 near the Weston water tank when its driver Mr. Ed Larroux lost control. Mr. Larroux, a salesman for W. A. McDonald & Sons was driving to Picayune in company with his wife, when the accident occurred. The driver was enroute to Picayune with a truck load of tobacco supplies, which, according to Mr. C. McDonald, member of the firm of W. A. McDonald & Sons, valued at $2,100, with no insurance.

The truck, which caught on fire about an hour after it had been ditched, was estimated at a conservative value of $600.00, and Mr. McDonald stated that he did not know just then if the policy covered fire and under the conditions. He said like the stock, he feared the truck was not protected. However, he and his firm were thankful no one was hurt nor did anyone lose a life as might have happened.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Larroux suffered painful injuries and were brought into the King's Daughters Hospital where it was found that Mr. Larroux was suffering with a broken rib, and Mrs. Larroux sustained a badly wrenched back and were kept in the hospital for treatment.

Police Chief John Payne of Gulfport today notified all operators of places in Gulfport where beer and wine are sold that they must close at midnight each night and not re-open before 6 o'clock in the morning.

The order prohibiting the sale of beer and wine after midnight was occasioned, Chief Payne stated, by the recent large number of arrests of persons during the early morning hours after they had "filled up" on wine and beer at places operating during those hours.

Many of those arrested were young people, the chief said.

"Any violation of regulations will result in the arrest and prosecution of the proprietor of the place of business and the possible prohibition of the sale of beer and wine within the establishment," Chief Payne warned in the official notice.

PREVIEW OPENING IS HELD AT JEFFERSON DAVIS SHRINE

On the Mississippi Gulf Coast Saturday—Tributes to Confederate Leader Voiced by Prominent Speakers—Articles at Beauvoir.

Beauvoir, stately white-columned mansion in which Jefferson Davis, president of the Confederate States of America in the epochal days of 1861-65, penned the story of "The Rise and Fall of the Confederacy" had its preview opening Saturday afternoon as a shrine to the memory of the South's great leader.

J. B. Snider, Clarksdale publisher and former lieutenant-governor, was master of ceremonies at the dedication, at which State Senator Maxwell Bramlette of Woodville represented Governor Paul B. Johnson.

Mr. Snider paid tribute to W. K. Herrin, Clarksdale, state commander of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, for the "enthusiasm with which he rejuvenated interest in the restoration of the old mansion and its creation as a shrine." He praised Dr. W. A. Evans, chairman of the shrine board, for "his labor of love to restore to the nation one of its greatest shrines."

Bramlette Speaks

Senator Bramlette said the shrine was "the embodiment of all the traditions of Southern manhood and womanhood." The money the state expended on the shrine was well spent, he said, and the state accepts the memorial with pleasure and thanks to Dr. Evans and the board for their "magnificent job." He expressed Governor Johnson's regret at being unable to be present.

Dr. Evans pointed to the physical reconstruction of the property but said the task was just beginning to gain for President Davis "that justice to which he is entitled." "We should pledge ourselves to keep up our efforts to the end that Davis may have the justice due him. He suffered in justice as no other public character has suffered," Dr. Evans declared.

Mrs. J. P. Pentecost, Mt. Olive state president of the U. D. C., who was named hostess of the shrine, said that the long-hoped-for time has come when Beauvoir might be restored, that it might be a venerated spot for those who loved the memory of Davis.

Nabors Superintendent

The board also announced the appointment of Sam M. Nabors, Aberdeen, as superintendent of property.

Mr. Herrin voiced the appreciation of the sons of veterans at the shrine. Mrs. Pentecost announced that on June 3 the formal dedication of the shrine will be held and on this date Senators Pat Harrison and Theodore G. Bilbo are expected to speak. The United States Marine Band has been invited and representatives of the U. D. C. in 36 states will be asked to attend.

There are many pieces of original furniture still in the home, but some of the finer pieces had been taken away by members of the family to various parts of the United States and Canada. Among those sent back to the shrine, now in the possession of descendants was the living room set of carved rose wood, in the grape design, newly upholstered in an old-fashioned fabric, as much like the original as possible. This came from Mrs. C. E. Farnham, great granddaughter of Montpelier, Canada.

Among other cherished pieces from Jefferson Davis Hayes of Colorado is a large man's rocker, seated in which Jefferson Davis posed for a picture, now in the possession of the shrine board. There are also two boudoir chairs claiming their rightful place in Mrs. Davis' bedroom, along with other original furniture, her personal Bible and family picture in a frame for her bedside table.

Piano Restored

The spacious reception hall presents a picture with luxury in quaint and massive antiques in their original positions, including the large square marble-topped table at which Mrs. Davis sat at the time she deeded to the Sons of Veterans the home which is now the shrine.

Then there is the original living room, or parlor, its beautiful furniture and enchanting view of the waters of the Mississippi sound through the branches of the moss-draped oak trees.

Miss Winnie Davis' spinet piano, upon which "Beauvoir" was played Saturday, has been restored. The hall and other parts of the building were decorated by Robert Crofton and Charles Shean, Biloxi artists. Two sewing machines, formerly belonging to Miss Winnie Davis, have been admired by women visiting the

ERROL FLYNN EXPERT ON LOVE AT A. & G. IN "SANTA FE TRAIL, 16-17"

Excellent Picture For Local Theater This Week End.

Willy-nilly, Errol Flynn has become an expert in six centuries of love.

In each century his loved one has been fair, pure and reluctant. In almost every instance, he has been forced to extend himself on the screen to tremendous effort and undertakings to win her.

But, with the exception of Queen Elizabeth, as played by Bette Davis, he has seldom failed. So, willingly or unwillingly, he has become expert in the minds of most theatergoers and, perhaps, in his own mind too.

It is 19th century love he is practicing just now in "Santa Fe Trail," with Olivia de Havilland, who also was the object of his affection and the source of his inspiration in the 18th century "Captain Blood." 13th century "Robin Hood" and several other period love tales.

With Errol Flynn leading the action, "Santa Fe Trail," brings to the screen one of the most exciting and inspiring chapters of history. Jeb Stuart, Custer, Sheridan, Pickett, John Brown storm across the years as yesterday's great history makes today's mighty screen thrillers.

Michael Curtiz, to whose credit such action pictures as "Dodge City," "Virginia City," "The Charge of the Light Brigade," and "Captain Blood," have already been chalked up, lives up to his best directorial tradition with "Santa Fe Trail."

New Cruiser To Be Named "Biloxi"

Secretary Knox announced Saturday that President Roosevelt has chosen the names of cities for twenty-three cruisers to be built under the navy expansion program.

The original cooking utensils which have been in the possession of Mrs. Ernest Halstead of Mission, Tex., have been returned to the home. Included in these is a candle street light which will also be erected in its proper place.

At the Executive Mansion on Saturday Last — Senator Bilbo and Other Prominent Officials Present—One of Few Weddings at the Mansion.

Surrounded by immediate friends, relatives and a few high officials of the state, Paul Burney Johnson, Jr., 25-year-old lawyer, son of Governor and Mrs. Paul B. Johnson, was married to Miss Dorothy Elizabeth Fowler at the historic executive mansion at 4 P. M. at Jackson Saturday.

The impressive ceremony, solemnized in the drawing room of the state's 100-year-old home, was the fifth ever conducted there. The Rev. Shed Hill Caffey, pastor of the Clarksdale Methodist church, performed the single ring rites.

Immediately after the Rev. Mr. Caffey said the rites, Governor Johnson, in formal attire, as were all the principals in the ceremony, walked over and kissed his son and his daughter-in-law and bade them God-speed.

Guests were greeted at the mansion by Governor and Mrs. Johnson and the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Reeves Power of Red Bank, Miss.

The bridal party descended the stairway, banked on either side by a sea of ferns, while on the palustrade were smiles and ferns.

In the drawing room the rites were performed where a beautiful altar was arranged. A huge gold-leaf mirror adorned the wall above the mantel. On each side were seven-branch brass candelabra, holding glowing white tapers. Ferns were massed high on the sides of the mantel, and in the center were rich fern plaques.

Preceding the ceremony was a program of nuptial music presented by Warren Laroux, Bay St. Louis, student at the University of Mississippi, who sang "Because" by D'Hardelot, and "At Dawning" by Cadman, Mr. Laroux was accompanied at the piano by the governor's niece, Mrs. Emmett V. Thomas of New Orleans.

Mrs. Thomas played Liszt's "Liebestraum" during the ceremony. Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" was used as the processional.

The bride, wearing a gown of champagne moire gras de londre, an afternoon model patterned with long fitted basque, came down the stairway with her father, who gave her in marriage.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Mary Sylvia Heron of Jackson, who wore a blue lace dress. Miss Heron carried a colonial bouquet of red roses tied with red ribbon.

Pat Johnson, brother of bridegroom was best man. Ushers were Shelby Power, Jr., Red Bank, brother of the bride; David Singleton, Hattiesburg; Dan Russell, of Bay St. Louis and Tom Hunt Cole, New Albany.

Attired in the conventional cut-away coats with striped trousers, each man in the bridal party wore boutonnières of white carnations, with the exception of the bridegroom and his brother, who wore gardenias. The bridegroom's mother and the bride's mother wore blue.

After the wedding ceremony, guests crowded into the big dining room where the bride and bridegroom sipped the heart-shaped wedding cake. Wedding presents were displayed in the library.

Among the high officials of the state present were Senator Theodore G. Bilbo, and Lieutenant-Governor Dennis Murphree and Mrs. Murphree.

On their return from their honeymoon trip, Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Johnson, Jr. will reside on Deville street, Jackson.

No secret seems better guarded than the identity of the King and queen for this year's Bay St. Louis Carnival Ball, to take place on the 21st of this month. All that is admitted is the queen is a married member of the younger set. Of course, the king is a prominent business man. And that's all.

—Mayor G. Y. Blaise and the First Lady of the city are bemoaning the death of "Sally," a valuable dog, one with all the attributes possessed by dogs that are paid well-known tributes for their instinctive being that make them the friend of man. Sally was an institution around the home of the Mayor and his good wife and every visitor to the premises knew Sally. It is a great loss to the public and the Mayor and we do not know how we are going to replace this valuable animal.

Members of 4-H Clubs of Waveland School are entertaining at a lovely Valentine party on Thursday evening of this week in the school auditorium.

Miss Rose F. Carley spent Sunday afternoon here visiting her relatives.

the Bourgeois, Marrero and Funk families.

Mrs. J. A. Feldman, her daughter, Mrs. Al Grass have returned from a trip to New Orleans where they attended the wedding of a relative.

Hollywood Echoes

JUGGING by titles announced for forthcoming pictures, Hollywood is keeping right up with current events in the nation and in the world at large.

Fox plans to produce "Confirm or Deny," dealing with war-time England. Alexander Korda has bought "Forbidden City," an original story by Ben Hecht, dealing with Nazi-occupied Paris and Boris Morros will produce "Wings of Democracy," a photoplay based on the ferrying of American planes to England. Fox also has "Nazi Ace in the U. S. A." on its current schedule, the plot of which deals with a German aviator who escapes from Canada and crosses the U. S. border.

The loss of foreign markets for the sale of American films has caused all producers to be more "American-minded." So, for a while at least Hollywood will play up to the people of this country and the towns in which they live, by using the real names of municipalities rather than inventing fictional places and people.

One of the hurdles that Hollywood's actors and actresses will have to overcome, however, is the correct pronunciation of some of this country's towns and cities. Can you pronounce correctly Poughkeepsie, Iowa, Boise, Tucson, Prairie du Chien, Shokan, Los Angeles, San Diego, La Jolla, Piscataway, Sylva, Cobbiss, Lake Chamquassabam, Cobb or Albuquerque? We doubt it.

Little Carolyn Lee, 5-year-old Paramount scene snatcher, will next be seen in "You Go Your Way," based on a novel by Katherine Brush involving a man and wife whose divorce is averted because of their affection for their child.

Time was when an actor or actress passed the thirty-year deadline, his or her jig was about up as far as popularity with the fans was concerned. No so today, however, for most of the leading actors and actresses in Hollywood are thirty and over, and lately with many years of box office appeal left. To mention a few, there are Madeline Carroll who is past 35, Miriam Hopkins, 37, Myra Loy, 36, Joan Crawford, 35, Claudette Colbert, 36, Marlene
